Charlton's partners with Champions Place

JOHNS CREEK—Scheduled to open for residents in the fall of 2020, Champions Place is a unique living residence designed for young adults with physical challenges. Neighborhood restaurant Charlton's has committed to enhancing the new community asset by providing catered meals for the center's sports and social activities.

"When we opened our doors just four years ago, we decided Charlton's should be more than a place to get a good meal," said owner and chef Bob Charlton. "Champions Place is fulfilling an important need in the community and we firmly believe it is our responsibility as business owners, citizens and human beings to lift up those who make it their mission to do good for others."

Champions Place will be the home of the Champions Wheelchair Sports and the Titans team formed in 2010. The group meets bi-weekly to enjoy friendly competition and healthy exercise through a fun game of wheelchair soccer.

"There are more than 80 Titans and their families who will benefit from the generosity of this local community and we are so grateful to Charlton's for being a catalyst to make that happen," said Rick Thompson, Executive Director of Champions Community Foundation.

Charlton's will set aside one dollar from every Cheesesteak and Reuben, Burger or Jumbo Hot Dog sold at the restaurant into a Champions Place Catering Fund that will be used to provide meals during Champions Place sporting events, game nights, outdoor movie nights, Bible studies, casino nights and other social activities. The restaurant has also partnered with Stanley Davenport of World's Finest Chocolates, to sell their famous candy bars, with proceeds going towards the same fund.

Community engagement is critical for the success of the Champions Place model and Charlton's hopes their example will encourage their customers and other business owners to consider how they might lend a hand.
